JULY 2019

President's Letter

I hope everyone had a good Fourth of July holiday. Summer is in full swing and our great activities have started. Thank you again to Jim and Evelyn for your hospitality and opening your home to our Club.

The COB show on Wednesday, July 10th was well attended by our Club, I was especially happy to see some of our new members. It sure was hot that day, but I am not complaining.

The Alden parade was a success; we had about 12 cars and the Wiers with their truck with VFW colors bringing up the rear. I would like to thank everyone who attended.

Our new meeting place has been changed; we are now going to meet at the Denny's Restaurant, 4757 Transit Rd., Depew. It was the old Swiss Chalet. There is a separate room and the members can have something to eat. So mark the change on your calendar which will begin with our Saturday, August 17th meeting.

The Board will begin to go over the By-Laws to see what we can do to update them. I ask that members review the By-Laws and submit ideas for changes to the Board for recommendation. If any changes are to be made, it will be printed in our newsletter and presented to our membership for a vote.

Have a great summer....Hope to see you at our next activity. Remember...Fun, Friends, Fiberglass (and Food too!)

Randy Crist, President

WNYCC ALL CORVETTE CRUISE - submitted by Kevin & Linda Ross's son

Hundreds of people came together on Wednesday, June 19 to celebrate the quintessential American sports car, the Corvette. West Herr Chevrolet of Williamsville welcomed the Western New York Corvette Club for the group's marquee event of the year, the Fifteenth Annual All-Corvette Cruise Night.

From classic American muscle to the modern domestic supercar, all generations of Corvette were on display. WNY Corvette Club members, along with their special guests, Corvettes of Buffalo club members, were all vying for their chance to have their ride named Best in Show. There were also Excellence Awards up for grabs.

The event was free for everyone, with no registration fee and no charge for admission. Dash plaques and tee shirts were awarded to the first 100 cars. With door prizes, a 50/50 split, basket auction, and food, the cruise night had a little something for everyone- even if you didn't have your own car to show off. Most notably, the car show also collected food and water donations to benefit the Buffalo Veterans' Court.

For the chairmen of the show, Randy Crist, Pete Ricigliano, and Geanine Sobczak, the cruise night was a total success. They had secured a prime location and the show took place under clear skies and perfect 76° weather.

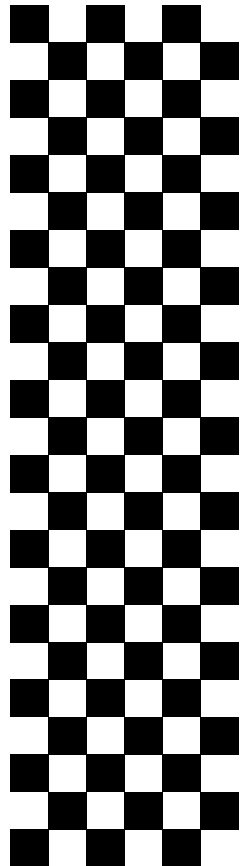

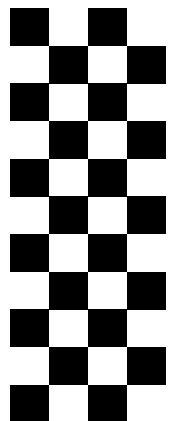

The Western New York Corvette Club would like to thank Melissa Attea, the Manager at West Herr Chevy at 8040 Transit Road in Williamsville, the venue for the cruise night. They would also like to thank Scott Bieler, the President and CEO of West Herr, and sponsor of the group's event.

If you happened to miss Wednesday's cruise night, don't worry! The Western New York Corvette Club still has a lot more planned for the rest of the summer, including parades, car shows, and club outings. You can find out all the details at WNYCC.com and contact WNYCCBuffalo@gmail.com for more information.

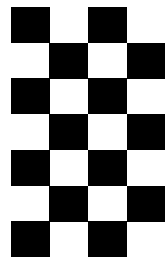

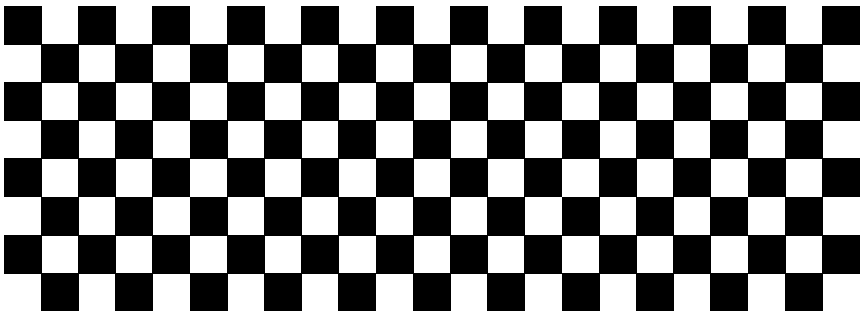

WNYCC ALL CORVETTE SHOW

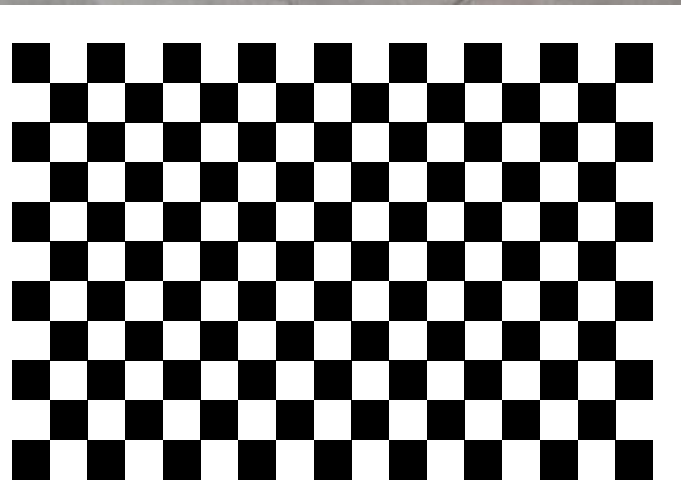

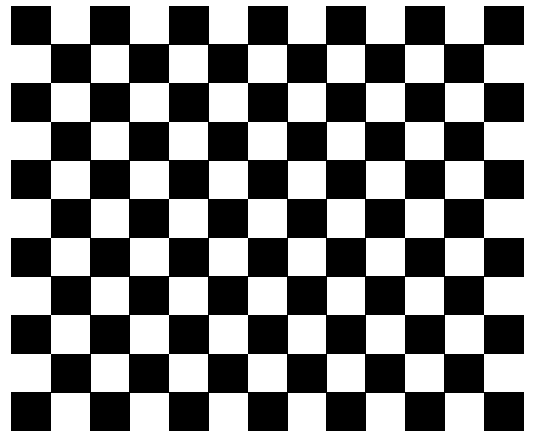

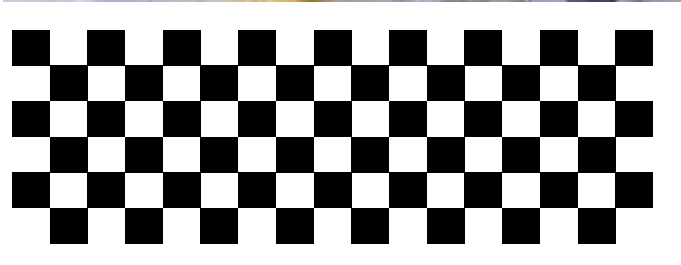

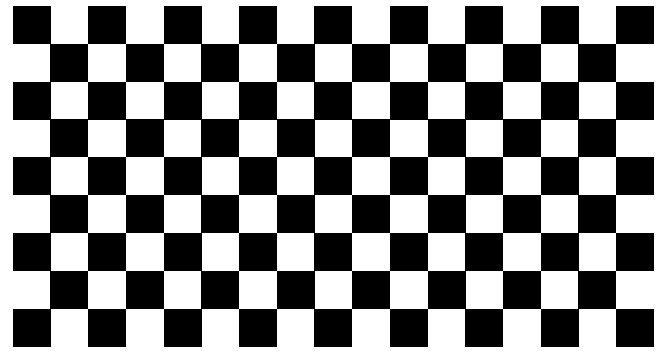

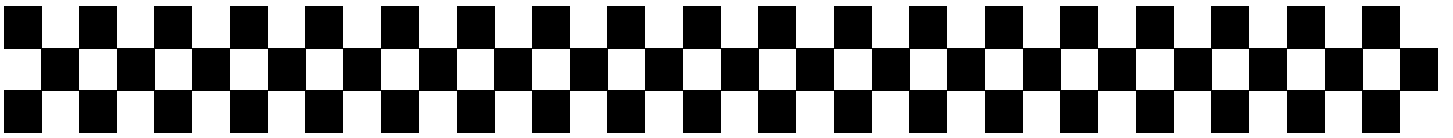

WINE AND CHEESE PARTY AT JIM & EVELYN WIER'S HOUSE June 29, 2019

I can't recall how long we have been going to this event hosted by Jim & Evelyn but I can say it gets better and better every year!! The weather was perfect for some Bocce Ball (hope no one got poison ivy searching for the ball that went into the woods!!) and indoor Wii Bowling. It may have been hot outside but it's never too hot for Evelyn's homemade soups (chicken vegetable barley—yummy! and of course, chili). Don't forget Jim's cherries, soaked in every kind of liquor you can think of! It was a wonderful day spent relaxing with our friends. Thank you so much Jim & Evelyn for being such gracious hosts and welcoming the Club yet again into your home.

GM Sends Letters to Selected Corvette Owners of Potential C7 Corvette Fuel Tank Leak

By Keith Cornett

Jun 5, 2018
5982

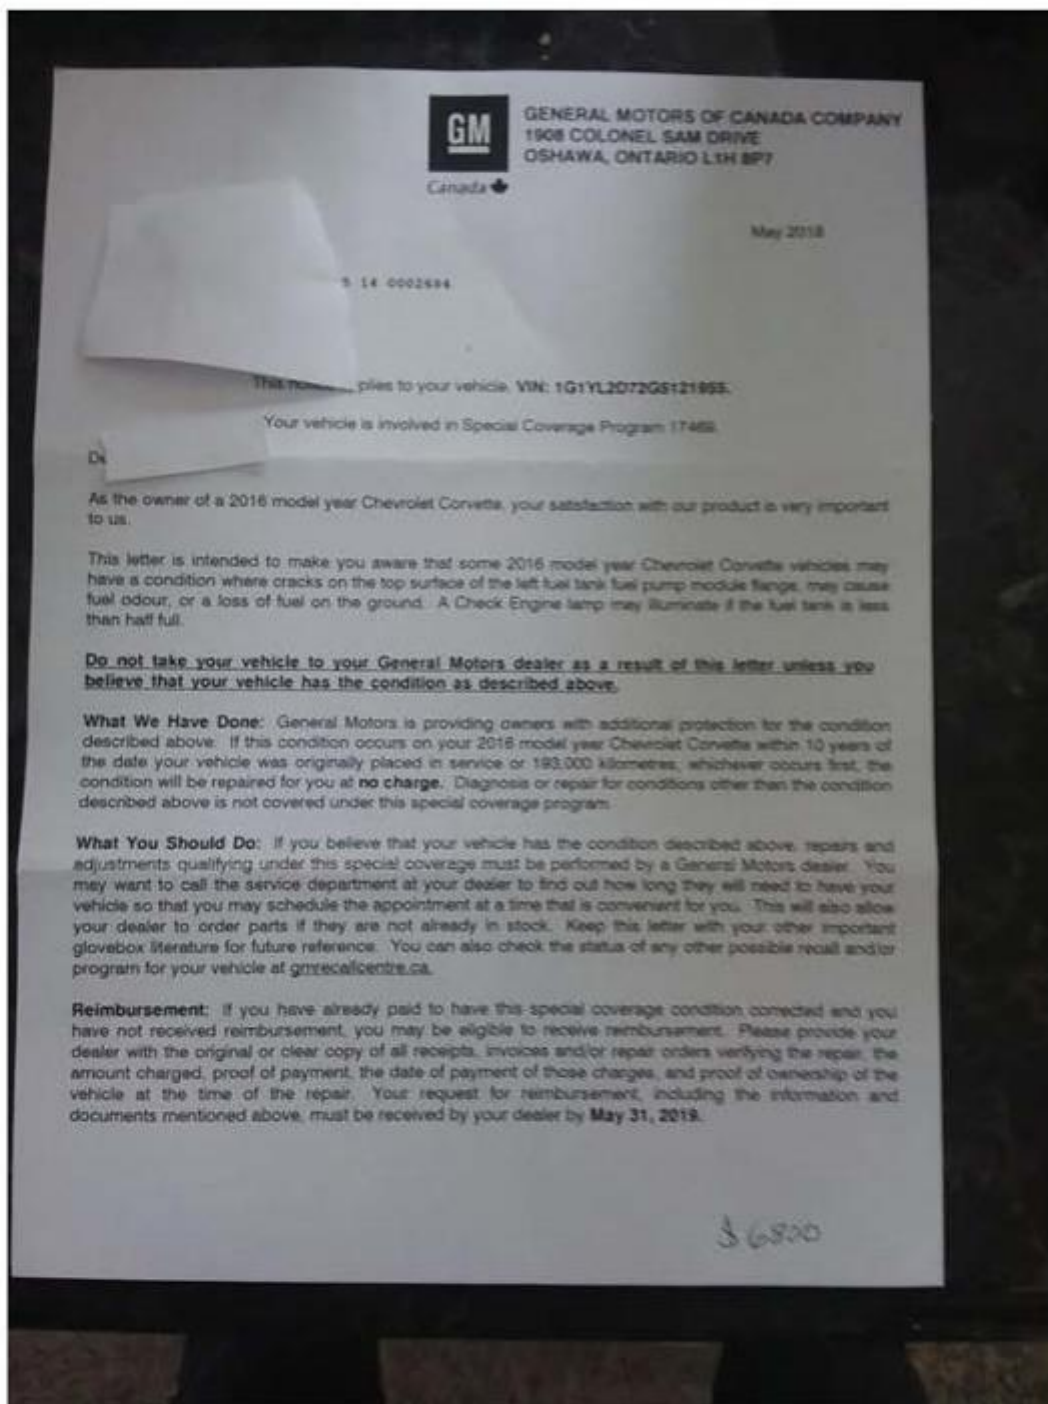

During the last couple of weeks in May, General Motors began sending letters to owners of C7 Corvettes to notify them of a potential issue with their Corvette's fuel tanks. Based on those chiming in on the forums, the notice covers Corvettes built from 2014-2017 and includes all models (Stingray, Grand Sport and Z06).

In the letter GM says the following:

"This letter is intended to make you aware that some 2016 model year Chevrolet Corvette vehicles may have a condition where cracks on the top surface of the left fuel tank pump module flange, may cause fuel odor, or a loss of fuel on the ground. A Check Engine lamp may illuminate if the fuel tank is less than half full."

A copy of the letter (via GM Canada) to a 2016 Corvette owner can be viewed here:

For those C7 Corvettes that may be impacted by this fuel tank issue, GM has automatically added a supplemental extended warranty to your Corvette. The special extended coverage is for 10 years from the date your vehicle was originally placed into service or 120,000 miles, whichever occurs first. The extended warranty would only cover repairs to the fuel tank and related systems during that time period.

An owner on the Corvette Forum that goes by the handle of rmorin1249 says his Corvette suffered from the leaking fuel issue and has since been fixed:

"I think it was the seal around the fuel sending unit. Very strong fuel smell especially when parked in a closed garage. Repair required disassembling the rear half of the undercarriage and dropping both tanks. A real PITA. Dealer did a good job but car was out of service for several weeks." He adds that he is "not an attorney but I feel this is a very serious potential safety issue. If you smell raw fuel, take your car to a GM dealer immediately.

To see if your 2014-2017 Corvette is one of those with the potential issue, you can check your vehicle at my.chevrolet.com or call Chevrolet customer assistance (with VIN in hand) at 800-222-1020 to see if your Corvette has the new supplemental "Special Coverage #17469"

Chevrolet is calling this an extended service warranty. It covers the left side fuel tank and related parts, including the primary fuel pump, though is primarily for cracks on the top of the tank itself. Symptoms include: check engine light, smelling fuel vapor, and/or fuel leaks on the surface below the car.

The good news is that it's doesn't appear that the leaky gas tank issue is widespread with just several cases reported that we could count on the forum. Previous generation Corvettes from the C5 and C6 years have also had their own issues with the fuel tanks so we're glad to hear that Chevrolet is aware of the issue and special coverages have already been put into place.

Veterans Treatment Court fills a critical need

By DAN MITCHELL

I never wanted the distinction to say that my life was saved by a court system, but this is my experience. I'm sharing my story to bring attention to the revolutionary work being done by Judge Robert Russell and his team of professionals and volunteers at the Veterans Treatment Court.

I served in the Army as a medic from 1989-1993 and was a part of the deployments to the first Iraq war and Somalia. It only takes a moment for an experience to change a person's life forever. Post-traumatic stress is as real as a bone sticking out of your leg, and perhaps more sinister because it can't be seen. That said, I do not in any way fault the military for the decisions I made that led me to Veterans Court, it is simply a significant contributing factor.

After leaving the military I knew that something had changed in my general mindset and ability to communicate with the people around me, but I couldn't put a finger on it.

Gradually things got worse in the form of deepening depression, disassociation and alcohol abuse. I didn't seek help from the VA during this decline, mostly because I didn't trust them. I didn't know about the support available at the VA and Vet Center.

Eventually, because of not taking my situation as seriously as I needed to and getting the right help, I drifted into a serious breakdown and loss of control.

In 2013 I was arrested for DWI. After repeated violations of my probation, and the loss of my family, friends and business, I was given an opportunity to enter the Veterans Treatment Court instead of going to jail. What I found there was beyond any kindness I could have imagined.

On the first day of court I was greeted with unexpected compassion, and a genuine positive regard for my well being. Being welcomed into this community was so powerful because at that point in my life no one was happy to see me. I had burned most bridges, and people were understandably distancing themselves from me.

My journey through Veterans Court was a completely positive, life-altering experience, and in 2016 I satisfied the conditions of the court. My final day of court, which we call graduation, was as powerful as the first.

It's now my responsibility to my fellow veterans to call on our state officials to pass the Veteran's Treatment Court bills introduced by Sen. Brad Hoylman and Assemblywoman Sandy Galef. Judge Robert Russell has created a lifeline for people suffering under illness and despair, and his work is continuing to save lives, restore families, and strengthen communities.

We are very grateful to our elected officials for allowing us to continue in these efforts to leave no veteran behind.

Dan Mitchell, of Amherst, deployed with the Army to Iraq and Syria.
